

Squam Lakes Association

Spring Alternative Hikes to Closed Trails

SLA's Resource Center 534 US Route 3 Holderness, NH 03245

Whitten Woods (414 acres) is owned by the New England Forestry Foundation. The Squam Lakes Conservation Society holds the conservation easement and the SLA manages the trail network. This parcel has 2.2 miles of trail in hilly terrain. There are two small peaks that feature nice views of Little Squam, Big Squam, and the Pemigewasset River Valley.

Driving northwest on US-3 heading into Ashland turn right onto Owl Brook Rd (.3 miles) then turn left onto Highland St (.8 miles). Parking will be on the right.

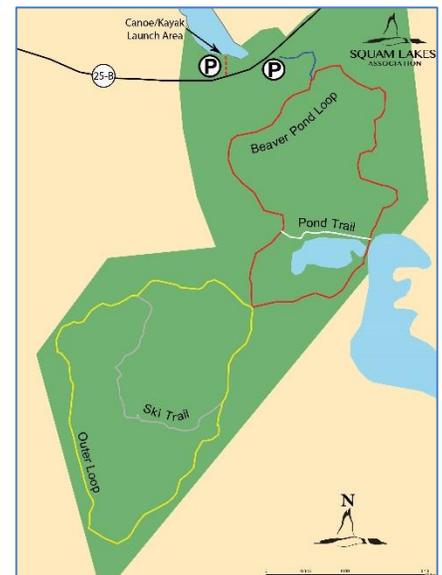

Chamberlain-Reynolds Memorial Forest (157 acres) is owned by New England Forestry Foundation and managed for public use by the SLA. There are over 4 miles of easy trails that meander through this managed forest and along a mile of shoreline where you will find several beaches, a swamp boardwalk, and campsites for rent.

Driving south on US-3 heading towards Center Harbor, turn left onto College Rd There are two parking lots on College Rd on the left. The first is at 0.3 miles (West Lot) and second is 0.4 miles (East Lot).

Belknap Woods (90 acres) is owned and managed by the SLA and the conservation easement is held by the Squam Lakes Conservation Society. The trail features two loops of 1.0 mile each. The Beaver Pond Loop travels around a beaver pond where wildlife is abundant. The Outer Loop climbs over hills and valleys for a pleasant forest walk. The Pond Trail and Ski Trail offer gradual terrain for cross-country skiing in winter and hiking in warmer months.

Driving southeast on US-3 from Holderness turn left on to NH-25B (.87 miles) parking will be on the right. There is additional parking and lake access on the north side of the road as well.

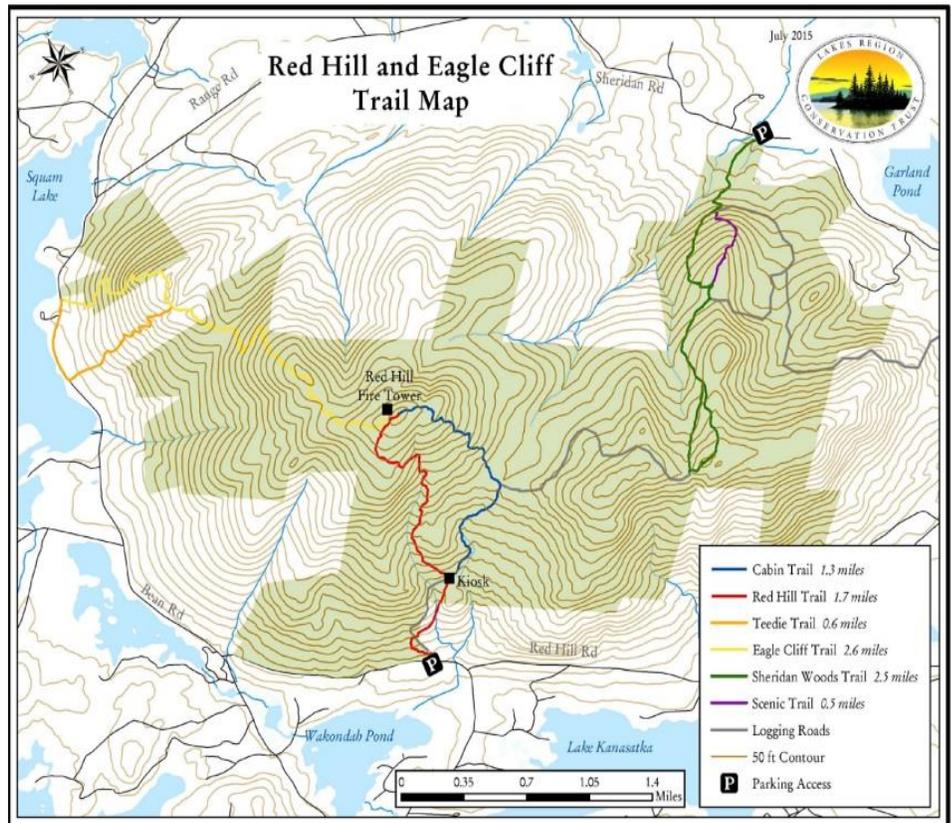

RATTLESNAKE MOUNTAINS AND SQUAM RANGE TRAILS CLOSED

Red Hill Conservation Area

(2,650 acres) is owned and stewarded by the Lakes Region Conservation Trust. The top of Red Hill offers excellent views of the Lakes and White Mountain regions. On top there is a fire tower that provides an even better vantage point. The Red Hill Trail (shown in RED) is 1.7 miles long and climbs at a moderate grade.

Driving southeast on US-3 from Holderness turn left onto NH-25B (3.25 miles) turn left onto NH-25 (1.92 miles), turn left onto Sawmill Way (.12 miles), then turn left onto Red Hill Rd (1.92 miles). Parking is on the right.

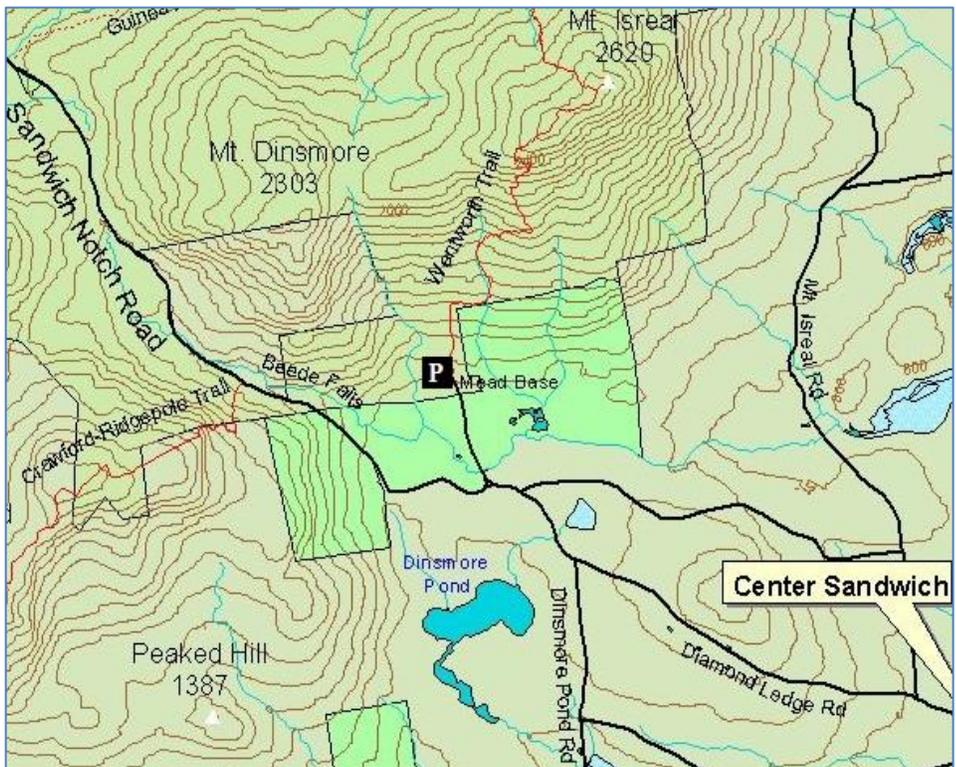

For more information on this property visit the Lakes Region Conservation Trust website at www.lrct.org

Wentworth Trail

This trail is in the White Mountain National Forest and climbs Mount Israel (el. 2,620') from the Mead Conservation Center. (517 Diamond Ledge Road, Center Sandwich, NH). This trail is 2.1 miles to the summit of Mount Israel and takes 1 hour 45 minutes. At 1.4 miles there is a nice view of Squam to the left. At 1.8 miles you will reach West Peak with views to the North.

Driving northeast on NH-113 heading into Center Sandwich turn left onto Grove St At .4 miles Grove St becomes Diamond Ledge Rd. Continue for .94 miles, making sure to stay to the right when you see Sandwich Notch Rd. Park in the dirt lot in front of Mead Conservation Center.

RATTLESNAKE MOUNTAINS AND SQUAM RANGE TRAILS CLOSED